- Pretrial Services: Conduct investigations, research the criminal and social backgrounds of defendants charged with federal offenses, and interview defendants and their families. Compile information gathered to prepare reports and make release recommendations to the court. Represent the probation and pretrial services office at court proceedings. Supervise defendants on pretrial release to ensure public safety, compliance with release conditions, investigate alleged violations of release, and report findings to the court.
- Presentence Investigations: Conduct investigations and prepare reports for the court with recommendations for sentencing defendants convicted of federal offenses. Interview defendants, their families, and collateral sources to obtain background information. Investigate defendants prior criminal history and finances. Interview victim(s) and provide victim impact statements to the court. Analyze and respond to objections and present unresolved objections to the court. An integral part of this position requires the interpretation and application of policies and procedures, statutes, the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedures, and U.S. Sentencing Commission guidelines. Skill in legal reasoning and critical thinking is preferred. Track legal developments and serve as a resource to judicial officer's for information and advice to facilitate proper imposition of a sentence.

- Post-sentence Responsibilities: Supervise and evaluate the behavior of offenders on probation, supervised release, or parole to ensure public safety and compliance with specified conditions. Complete written investigations/evaluations on proposed plans for offenders scheduled for release from imprisonment. Develop supervision and treatment plans to include identification of individual problems and community safety requirements; establish specific objectives; and assist in securing employment and medical, legal, or social services. Investigate, evaluate, and prepare reports of findings and recommendations for the court on offenders who are alleged to have violated conditions of probation, supervised release, or parole.
- Maintain personal contact with defendants/offenders in the community, office, and telephonically.
- Cooperate with pretrial services and probation officers in other districts to assist in investigations and to assist in the supervision of defendants and/or offenders on pretrial release, courtesy supervision, or travel permits, and perform related services as requested. Analyze reports to identify problems, trends, and to formulate solutions.
- Maintain case records as required by statute or by the court, the Administrative Offices of the U.S. Courts, and the Chief U.S. Probation and Pretrial Services Officer; document significant behavior of defendants and/or offenders, events, and officer/offender interaction as directed under existing policies and procedures.
- Knowledge of and compliance with, The Code of Conduct for Judicial Employees and court confidentiality requirements. Ability to consistently demonstrate sound ethics and judgment.

Selection Process

Prior to appointment, the selectee considered for this position will undergo a medical examination and drug screening. Upon successful completion of the medical examination and drug screening, the selectee may be appointed provisionally, pending favorable suitability determination by the court.

A high sensitive background investigation with law enforcement agencies, including fingerprint and criminal record checks, will be conducted as a condition of employment. Any applicant selected for a position will be hired provisionally pending successful completion of the background investigation. Unsatisfactory results may result in termination of employment.

In addition, as conditions of employment, the incumbent will be subject to ongoing random drug screening and updated background investigations every five years, and, as deemed necessary by management for reasonable cause, may be subject to subsequent fitness-for-duty evaluations.

Benefits

- Federal benefits include paid vacation and sick leave, 10 paid holidays, retirement benefits, and a 401(k) styled program called the Thrift Savings Plan (TSP), with a government match of up to 5%. Optional benefits include health and life insurance, disability and long-term care insurance, dental and vision insurance, and Flexible Benefits Program that includes medical and dependent care reimbursement.
- Due to the volume of applications received, the court may only communicate to those individuals who will be interviewed for open positions. Travel and relocation expenses will not be paid.
- New officers receive extensive training during their first year of employment. In addition to local training, officers must also successfully complete a six-week national training program at the Federal Probation and Pretrial Academy (FPPA) in Charleston, South Carolina.

How to Apply

- Qualified candidates must submit a cover letter, resume, most recent performance evaluation if conducted, college transcripts, and Application for Judicial Branch Federal Employment, form AO 78. The cover letter should be addressed to Ms. Rhonda M. Langford, Chief U.S. Probation Officer, and detail your specialized experience and preferred qualifications.
- Applications will not be considered complete until all the items listed above have been received; incomplete application packets will not be considered. Attachments should be submitted as Microsoft Word or Adobe Acrobat .pdf documents to HR@akd.uscourts.gov.
- Please note that telephonic and/or video interviews will be scheduled on May 29, 2018, and in-person interviews will be scheduled on June 11, 2018.

The Court is not authorized to reimburse travel expenses for interviews. This position is subject to mandatory participation of electronic salary payments (i.e. direct deposit). The Court reserves the right to modify the conditions of this job announcement, or to withdraw the announcement, without prior written or other notice.
